

Thoughts at the Old Homestead.

BY F. J. OTTISON.

On God! I thank thee, once again
My wandering feet have borne me home,
Through many a year of joy and pain
I've had, and yet may have, to roam.

A cherished purpose of my heart,
That ever gleamed along my way—
That in the darkest hour would start
To cheer me, is fulfilled to day.

The trees that wave above me now—
The stream that murmurs at my feet—
The breeze that cools my throbbing brow—
The wild-wood birds that sing so sweet—

The stately evergreens, that rise
Like fadeless Hope o'er all below,
Still pointing to the azure skies
The shining path we all would go—

The very clouds that shade the wood,
While here and there the sun looks through,
Like happy thoughts in Solitude,
All seem the same my boyhood knew.

There the old roof, beneath whose shade
On Life's rough journey tottering slow,
My infant feet to step essayed,
And first obstructions learned to know.

There the same chair, that year by year
Our Grand-Father's stalwart form up-bore;
The latch he raised still clicking here;
Oh, could he raise that latch once more!

I was his latest pride and joy,
Dwelt in his heart, and when cold death
Called him to bliss without alloy,
My name was on his dying breath.

Ten changeful years have passed away,
And God—more kind than just to me—
Hath let me live to see to-day
The refuge of my infancy.

Beneath the old familiar trees
Alone I sit, and tears of love
Fall through the solemn sighing breeze
For those who watch me from above.

Oh Memory! Let thy magic glass
Evoke the phantoms of the lost,
And while the sacred shadows pass
I'll worship those I loved the most!

Dear, sainted Shade! Behold thy son,
His heart is all a child's again,
O'er menhood's cheek his child tears run
And damp thy earth like scorching rain.

Here, for an hour, my thirsty soul,
Draw nectar from oblivion's sea,—
We reach at last our sacred goal,
The altar built by Memory.

We'll live again the guileless years,
Maturer life can never know—
Recall each phase Remembrance wears,
To grieve or cheer us while below.

But stern Reality doth break
The veil of reflective Thought;
Back to the Present, and awake,
Oh Soul! let visions chain thee not!

Back to the Present! let the Past
Still moulder in the arms of Doom,
A shrine I'll seek—perhaps the last
This side the portal of the tomb:

I'll seek, o'er yonder grass grown hill,
Two mounds beneath an humble stone,
Where sleep their ashes peaceful, still,
Commingle as in life in one.

A look—a tear—is all I ask;
Perchance their souls shall see me there,
And as I turn to Life's dull task
Will breathe for me an angel's prayer!

A look—a tear—and then farewell!
Sweet voices call me far away!
But ever in my soul will dwell
The holy memories of to day.

Oh all ye trees, ye vales, and hills,
'Mong which my boyish footsteps roved—
Ye rocks, ye paths, ye murmuring rills,
And all my infant spirit loved—

Ye all were dear to them, and still
More dear—for loss of them—to me!
To each I bid a long farewell—
In all but deathless Memory!

RESIGNATION.—Resignation is an exalted Christian virtue. It is a plant that grows not from nature's soil. It is a grace that must be cultivated like the rose tree, that it may flourish and shed forth its sweet fragrance amid the passing scenes of life. To possess resignation, calm and settled, under all circumstances, is a high attainment. Yet it is attainable; and blessed are they who live under its benign influences. It will shed a holy balm over the moral waste of life, and cheer us amid the darkest hours of our pilgrimage. Life has its cares and afflictions, its crosses and its conflicts, its disappointments and its sacrifices. But in every scene of earth, Resignation, like the strong and faithful anchor that holds the ship in safety till the storm is past, secures its possession, peace and quietness, till the darkness and danger of the tempest are over, and the sunshine of tranquility and joy again beam upon us. It will render our afflictions blessings, our crosses pleasures, and our sacrifices either for our own or the well-being of others, acceptable oblations to God.

Cicero, one of the greatest philosophers the world ever knew, told some great truths. "I have known," said he, "many sages by speaking, few by keeping silence; it is therefore more difficult to know how to be silent, than to speak."

A Spanish proverb says, "A fool may babble, but it takes a wise man to hold his tongue."

It has been observed that men of great intellects are never great talkers.

In New York, profanity is considered a disqualification in a school teacher.

Clemen's Indian Tonic.
Infallible Cure for CHILLS, or AGUE and FEVER, and a sure remedy in BILIOUS REMITTENT, and other FEVERS.
THIS INVALUABLE MEDICINE IS PURELY VEGETABLE.

THE unexampled success of this truly unrivalled Tonic, in curing in a few hours, where all other remedies have failed, and that too, in cases from six months to ten years standing—warrants the assertion, that if taking according to directions, it is infallible. A long list of certificates in proof of its infallibility might be added, but those upon the wrapper are deemed sufficient. Try it and be convinced that it is the most pleasant, most certain, and the very BEST remedy ever offered to the public for putting a speedy termination to the Chills or Ague and Fever.

From the great popularity of this medicine, many imitations, professing to be CLEMEN'S INDIAN TONIC, are about. Therefore, be sure to ask for that prepared by GEO. W. HOUSE, Nashville, Tennessee, who is the proprietor.

CERTIFICATES.
NEAR NASHVILLE, August 18, 1848.
Mr. Geo. W. House: Dear Sir—I had Chills and Fevers for twelve months; nine months of the time, without being able to check it, with all the aid I could procure from Physicians and the various Tonic Fever and Ague mixtures sold by the Drug stores. In April last I saw your advertisement of Clemen's Indian Tonic, as an infallible cure. I made no delay in calling upon you, and by using said Tonic, I found immediate relief, and a permanent cure. A friend of mine tried it about the same time, with the same happy result. Yours, respectfully,
C. L. GLASSGOW.

From the Clarksville Chronicle, Oct. 21, 1848.
Dr. T. D. Scott: Dear Sir—We have used Clemen's Indian Tonic in many cases of Ague and Fever, and we find it, in every particular, what it is commended to be in your advertisement. We have heretofore used most of the popular remedies in use for Fever and Ague, and we unhesitatingly recommend Clemen's Tonic to the confidence of the public, from our personal experience and observation, as a safe, certain, and prompt cure for the Ague and Fever, in any form or stage of the disease.
Yours, &c.
F. PEACHER,
JAMES J. PRITCHETT,
LEVI COLEMAN.

Extract of a letter from the Rev. F. A. OWEN of Memphis, dated Nov. 16, 1848.
My Dear Sir—I have tried Clemen's Indian Tonic in six different cases, and find it efficacious in a very high degree. It arrested the chill in every instance, and as yet there has been no return. I cheerfully give this testimony, that others may be induced to use a remedy both safe and efficacious in curing chills and fever.
Yours, very truly,
F. A. OWEN.

NASHVILLE, June 3rd, 1848.
Mr. Geo. W. House: Dear Sir—I shall make no apology in presenting the following remarkable case: A youth of about fifteen years old, living with me, had the Fever and Ague for ten years, without finding a cure; and I can assure you every means were used to that effect. In December last I tried a bottle of "CLEMEN'S INDIAN TONIC," which arrested the disease at once, and am happy to state, he has not had a chill or an ague since. You should lose no time in giving this Tonic an extensive circulation—it will prove a welcome friend and a great blessing to the afflicted.
Yours, truly,
JOHN H. DAVIS.

The above case is known to me, and is strictly true.

COLVER'S
Patent Concave Beater Churn.
WE call the attention of the public to the article heading this advertisement, and invite the enterprising and curious to call and witness its operation. All advertisement in relation to this invention, to the hundreds who have seen it tested, is supererogation.
First: This Churn will produce butter, gathering it in a mass, from sweet milk, in five to ten minutes, and from cream prepared, as families usually prepare it, in three to five minutes.
Second: The utility of this invention is apparent, as better butter can be produced from sweet milk, or cream, than can be sourced in the usual way; and by means of this Churn, a little girl or boy can perform, in five or ten minutes, what has heretofore required the labor of a woman or man for one or two hours, and sometimes half a day.
Third: By simply turning a thumb-screw, the whole inside dasher is taken out, leaving nothing but the butter and milk in the plain wooden box.
Fourth: It is the cheapest Churn ever invented, as the simplicity of its construction (though embodying a great philosophical principle,) makes it but little to manufacture it.
Fifth: It is a common sense Churn, as all will admit who will examine it.
We are now offering the complete monopoly of this staple article in States and counties, which will insure to our customers large profits and a speedy return of investments.

Miraculous! Wonderful!! Extraordinary!!
Consumption Can be Cured!!
And we defy the whole world to produce such strong and undoubted testimony from men of such high standing as we have, in favor of Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar. It not only cures consumption, but breaks up the most distressing cough in a few hours time.
Another remarkable cure of Consumption.—Mr. Gabriel Whitehead, of this city, was reduced so low that all his friends, and even his physicians, had given him up to die.
Mr. A. L. Scoville:—As I owe my life to the use of Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar, I feel it a duty and shall without fear or delicacy give my testimony, as evidence that others who may be afflicted with consumption or diseased lungs may know that this medicine is no humbug, but is worth ten thousand physicians' prescriptions for the disease for which it is recommended.
Last summer I was taken with a most distressing cough, and about the first of July my lungs were so diseased that I bled, in a short time several quarts of blood, which reduced me so low that all my friends and even my physicians thought I must soon die with consumption. My brother, however, soon heard of the wonderful cures made by this medicine, and procured a bottle, and before I had taken one half a bottle, it seemed to go to the very seat of the disease, and raised a large quantity of matter and phlegm, and my cough was stopped as with a charm. I have since used some two or three bottles, and am now able to attend to my business as well as ever.
I feel very thankful to the inventor of this medicine, for if it had not been for some all-powerful medicine to have raised the matter and phlegm, and healed my lungs, I should, without doubt, now have been in my grave.
If any one will call on me, Catharine street, near a square below Linn, I will give them the particulars and refer them to numerous friends who visited me during my sickness.
GABRIEL WHITEHEAD.
Cincinnati, Jan 10, 1848.
Sworn to and subscribed this 20th day of November, 1847. H. E. Spencer, Mayor of the city of Cincinnati.

Statement of Hiram Cox.
Late Professor of the Cincinnati Eclectic Medical College, and a physician well known, who has an extensive practice, in relation to the cure of Miss Belt, after having been given up to die with the last stages of consumption, by a number of physicians.
Mr. A. Scoville:—Sir: However reluctant I have been to permit my name to appear, attached to a certificate recommending patent medicines, nostrums or cathartics, I nevertheless think it my duty, not only to my patrons, but to the community and all afflicted with diseases requiring cough medicine, to state that in three particular cases of consumption, I have used, and pronounced, the medicine of Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar, operated more like a specific than any remedy of a similar character, in its operation, that I have ever used in my practice. One of the cases above, viz: Miss Belt, appeared to be laboring under the last stage of scrophulous consumption, as pronounced by several physicians who were attendance previous to my being called to treat the case. She is, at the present time, in the enjoyment of an apparently good health, and from appearances as likely to die with any other disease as any other young lady of this city. As it respects the health of the other cases, all the threatened premonitory symptoms seem to have subsided from the use of a few bottles of the syrup above.
Very respectfully,

Fashionable Tailoring.
THE partnership of Musler & Ransberger having been dissolved, the undersigned respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he designs continuing the TAILORING BUSINESS, in all its various branches, at the old stand, where he invites all who desire garments made up in a fashionable and substantial manner, to give him a call.
He has received the spring fashions, for 1848, and his arrangements are such that he will be in the constant receipt of all new fashions, as soon as they are introduced into the eastern cities. Terms moderate and work warranted.
JNO. P. MUSLER.
Fayette, April 22, 48.—7-6m.

Carroll's Corner.
CARROLL can, and as the Squire says, will sell, lower than the New Orleans cheap store.—The Squire says he will sell at St. Louis prices, with expenses added; Carroll has no expense to add, so he is beat at his own game. Lay on Mac-duff.
Glasgow, May 11.

ROPE.—A quantity of good hemp bale rope for sale at 6 cents per pound.
